

REMEMBERING THE FUTURE

An interdisciplinary workshop on how past experience
shapes future behaviour

Saturday 5th February 2011

Pemberton Building (room PG20), Palace Green, Durham, UK

- 9.30 a.m. Arrival and refreshments
- 10.00 a.m. Welcome and introduction
- 10.15 a.m. THE EBBS LECTURE
Prof. Bill Roberts, University of Western Ontario, Canada
"Do animals plan for the future?"
- 11.00 a.m. Prof. Chris Moore, Dalhousie University, Canada
"The development of episodic foresight"
- 11.45 a.m. Refreshments
- 12.15 p.m. Dr Demis Hassabis, University College London, UK
"The component processes supporting memory, imagination and future thinking"
- 1.00 p.m. Lunch
- 2.00 p.m. Dr. Kim Quinn, Birmingham University, UK
"Memory goals and person construal"
- 2.45 p.m. Prof. Kevin Laland, University of St. Andrews, UK
"On the adaptive plasticity of social learning"
- 3.30 p.m. Refreshments
- 4.00 p.m. General discussion
- 5.00 p.m. Close of workshop

The workshop is free and open to all, but to reserve a place
(and for further information) contact:

Dr Alex Easton, Dept. Of Psychology, Durham University
alexander.easton@durham.ac.uk

